The thief offered him for sale in both the livery stables at Holly Springs. I am inclined to think he will make for the Mobile and Ohio Railroad. Said horse is a large bay, 17½ hands high, very broad across the hips, a little larger on the left hip than the right, left hind foot white, broad flat forehead, walks and trots well, and a No. 1 roper, very short body for a horse of his size; on the left shoulder is a brand M, and J. P. under it, and a J. P. on the left hip; saddle and bridle marks around his girth a scar on one of his ankles, I don't recollect which; mane a little worn by collar. I will give Fifty Dollars for the recovery of the horse or any information so that I will get him again, or One Hundred Dollars for the thief and horse.

—For something like one hundred years (says an English paper) a fire has been burning in the disused workings of the Bank Pit Colliery, at Parkgate; and on more than one occasion it has threatened to break through into the workings of the colliery belonging to Earl Fitzwilliam. About twenty years ago this danger was imminent, and a thick bank wall was erected to avert it. During the recent dry weather the ground in the neighborhood has cracked, and it is supposed a current of air has found its way into the workings, causing the fire to spread. There is danger of its breaking through into the Earl's colliers.

—Secretary McCulloch has received the copy of an order issued by the Queen's Privy Councilors in England, forbidding the landing of any hay transported in vessels from the United States to the United Kingdom. The order was to take effect September 25th, and was intended to prevent the introduction into England of the cattle disease prevailing in the United States. Hay sent from the United States to England, intended only for horses, would be permitted to be landed upon an order from the Privy Council. It is believed this order was merely retaliatory on account of our government having prohibited importation of cattle from England some time ago, while the cattle disease was prevailing there.

—In view of the approaching triumph of the fashion of dyeing the hair of a golden or flaxen tint, it may be well for the ladies to ask what effect the chemical preparations used to produce those results have upon the general health. It is well known that many dyes used to make the hair dark, contain lead and other things deleterious to health, and that partial paralysis has been the consequence of their application in a great number of cases. To be "beautiful forever" is a grand object, no doubt, but the question arises whether it is desirable to be "beautiful" for a short time at the expense of final disability and ugliness. Of course what we say upon this subject will have but little effect if blondes are to be the fashionable rage. The ladies will dare paralysis, even, to be in the fashion.

JAPANESE AND CHINESE.

Americans generally have quite confused and erroneous notions of the every-day life of the inhabitants of eastern countries, particularly that of China and Japan. Our notions are to too great an extent derived from the personal appearance of Chinamen who sell poor cigars in our streets, and from the labels on tea-chests and Japanese trays. Those who have seen them at home think differently of them. The traveler Drummond says that the Japanese ladies are the most fascinating and elegant women that he ever saw in any quarter of the globe. Music, dancing, the theater, tumblers, mummers, and mountebanks abound to give them pleasure. "Punch," who, many people think, is a means of amusement peculiar to the English, appears in China, and has been traced in Tartary, and all through the Asiatic Continent, to the Bosphorus and Constantinople. The Japanese are fond of, and excel in, private theatricals. Their public theaters have three rows of boxes, in the front ones of which sit the young and pretty ladies, or those who fancy themselves such. Printed programmes and "books of the play" are always at hand. M. Fischer says "the ladies who frequent the theatre make a point of changing their dress two or three times during the representation, in order to display the richness of their wardrobe; and they are always attended by servants who carry the necessary articles of dress for the purpose." The young ladies in their social gatherings, employ themselves in making pretty boxes, artificial flowers, pocketbooks, etc., and in painting fans, birds, and other trinkets to give away as presents. Ponderous books of etiquette have been written to teach them how to conduct themselves at festivities, where they chat about current topics, talk scandal, and otherwise conduct themselves after the most approved "soreis" manner. When they die they go to the eternal rest of Nirwana.

HORRIBLE TRAGEDY.

A Boston Banker Murders one of His Sons and Attempts the Life of the Other.

BOSTON, October 9, 1868.—One of the most painful and appalling tragedies which has startled the community for a long time took place in the village of Longwood, in the town of Brookline, about four miles from Boston, at an early hour this morning. The act was produced by insanity on the part of the perpetrator, and the victims are his two sons, for whom he entertained the greatest affection in his sane moments.

The circumstances, as they appear upon investigation, are that Mr. George L. Richardson, during the intense heat of last summer, was exposed to the sun in such a manner as to become a victim to sunstroke, ever since which time he has suffered mental depression, and for the last week or ten days he has been too ill to engage in business, but was not during this time confined to his house. His friends were anxious about him on account of these premonitory symptoms of mental derangement, but there was not the slightest fear entertained of its assuming any violent or dangerous form. Last evening he retired early, and at about one o'clock this morning his wife awoke and found him very nervous. In a few moments he got up from his bed, took a razor from his dressing case, and, going into an adjoining room where his two sons, Henry and George, were sleeping, he instantly cut the throat of Henry from ear to ear, producing almost instant death, and then attempted in the same manner to kill his second son. The wounds inflicted upon the neck and throat of the latter are very deep and ugly, and it is possible he may not survive. Mrs. Richardson, hearing the cry of the youngest, ran to the room and pulled her husband back. A moment of reason came, and he exclaimed, "Great God, what have I done!" and immediately left the house, clad only in his night shirt, and shortly after jumped in a mill-dam near by. He extricated himself from the water immediately and proceeded in his almost nude state in the direction of Boston. He stopped at the house of an Irishman, and rapping upon the door demanded admission, stating that he was cold and wished to warm himself. While the man was preparing to descend, Mr. Richardson went off, and calling at the house of Mr. Henry A. Green, near the Cottage Farm station, on the Worcester Railroad, knocked at the rear door. The domestics, hearing him, inquired what he wanted, when he implored admission, stating that he was cold, and urged them to come down and make a fire. Before they had time to consider he threw up his arms and rushed away. He was found this forenoon in his own barn, under the hay, and taken to the insane asylum in Somerville. When he was found he was laboring under great mental depression, and, though unaware of the deed he had perpetrated, was impressed with the sense of having committed some great crime.

Mr. Richardson has a wife and four children. The lad who is dead was a youth of about fourteen years of age and beloved by all. His sudden death has thrown the deepest grief upon his circle of acquaintances, by whom he was esteemed for his many noble traits of character. Mr. Richardson's love and care for his children were something more than fatherly. He was their friend and confidant, participating in all their plans and enjoying with them the pleasures of a very happy home. He was himself a man of decided religious character, being at the time of the above sad occurrence a deacon in the Orthodox church at Brookline. Continued ill health, acting upon a nature naturally sensitive, created mental derangement, which is the only explanation to be given of this truly sad affair. In the immediate neighborhood of this sad event, among those who knew him best, there has been a tender and genial expression of sympathy for the wife and family thus suddenly and fearfully bereaved.

In business circles Mr. Richardson is well known, having been for about forty years prominently engaged as a shipping merchant, banker, etc., in the city of Boston. For the past few years he has been identified with the well known firm of Page, Richardson & Co., on State street, in this city.

SPANISH BEAUTY.

A correspondent of the Church Union writes as follows:

I had heard very much of the beauty of Spanish women, but indeed the half of the truth was not and cannot be told. Sometimes, heretofore, when standing half entranced before Murillo's pictures, I have wondered whence came his ideal or inspiration; but his Madonnas and Magdalens only walk the streets of Madrid and other cities of Spain. He had but to paint the portrait of his friends. Often have I stopped in utter astonishment at such ravishing beauty. The features, the form, the movement, the expression, are Roman dignity combined with Moorish grace; the stateliness of Zenobia with the voluptuousness of Cleopatra. Can it be that such summer evening twilight of repose can ever give place to the dark, stormy night of demoniac passion? That vice, treachery, falsehood, lurk under that angelic exterior?

The statue of the Venus de Milo, in the Louvre, at Paris, and the statue of the Venus de Medicis, in the Tribune, at Florence, have divided the admiration of the world. They represent two types of womanhood, differing as night and day; the former strong, sensuous, affectional, devotional and faithful friend, the constant wife, the devoted mother; the latter, light, volatile, spiritual, brilliant, impulsive. The first typifies the English woman, the last the French. A combination of the two constitutes the perfection of womanhood, as found in the Spanish Senora. She is evidently the result of many generations of the finest culture. The climate, the scenery, the romance, the chivalry, the grand and stirring scenes of Spanish history, have perfectly matured and developed the Roman and Moorish blood that flows in her veins, into a being finer than poet or painter ever conceived. Those brilliant, dark eyes and raven hair, coral lips, pearly teeth, the delicate complexion, the shading and pencilling of her eyelashes and brow, the shapely features, the expression of affection and warmth, the repose and dignity blended in her expression, the grace of manner, are indescribable. Her flowing black dress, mantilla, veil, and the fan, set off her beauties of person, and her ease of movement seems without effort and more like gliding than walking. She is not seemingly offended or affected by the extravagant flattery or compliment paid her, but accepts it in apparent innocent unconsciousness of its being anything improper, any more than if it had been addressed to the lily, the rose, a picture, or any work of art. If she be artful, she possesses the higher art of concealing it.

Waltzing and Round Dances.

A pastoral letter from Archbishop Spalding has just been published, in which we find the following paragraph:

"In their pastoral letter to the faithful, the Fathers of the Council admonish them to abstain in future from certain fashionable dances, commonly called waltzes, round or German dances, which, as recently practiced, are shocking to every sense of delicacy and dangerous to morals. The more effectually to carry out this warning, and to remove all pretext for viewing such dances as harmless, we have strictly enjoined that they be neither taught, nor even practiced for recreation among those of the same sex, in any of our colleges, academies or schools, whether conducted by Catholics or placed under Catholic auspices."

WEDDING IN A THEATER.

A Woman Performs the Ceremony.

From the Alta Californian.]

Maguire's Opera House in its palmiest days never contained a greater throng than on last evening. They convened to listen to a poem and a lecture, and to witness the nuptial rite, the leading spirit being a lady—and that lady Laura Cuppy. The fairer portion of creation outnumbered the sterner. The first part of the programme consisted of the reading of a poem on "The Beautiful Land." Next followed an erudite but brief essay on "Radicalism," in which the lords of creation got some hard hits. Madame Cuppy invited the audience to remain and witness, if they so desired, the marriage ceremony, which should be performed by herself, she being, as teacher in a religious organization, clothed, legally and legitimately, with the right to carry out the rite. Inasmuch as this was what the crowd was there for, nobody left the theater. Thereupon a young and fine looking couple advanced from behind the scenes, and at this most novel hymenial altar were they united (we hope for life) by a female. The ceremony was brief but impressive. "You do solemnly swear, Abigail, in the presence," etc., "to take," etc.—our readers know the formula better than we (a bachelor) can give it. At the conclusion of this very novel entertainment, the parties retired beyond the scenes, the groom not forgetting to drop a liberal amount of coin in the purse of the fair functionary who had made himself and his so happy.

"Love lighted in the bosom's shrine,
Thro' the long ages as they roll,
Burns ever with a restless fire,
Deathless, immortal as the soul!"

SINGULAR FREAK OF LUNACY.

Extraordinary Method of Committing Suicide.

A correspondent of the Hartsville Vidette, writing from Dixon Springs, Tenn., says:

Our community was startled on the morning of the 1st of October by the information of the suicide of Levi Pitts Gregory, who lived some five or six miles northeast from this place, under the most extraordinary circumstances.

The deceased during the war received a fright from which he never entirely recovered, and has at various periods exhibited slight aberrations of his intellect which was noticed by his friends, and some months since his reason became completely dethroned. His insanity or mania was that a plan to hang him had been concocted by his enemies, and that they were constantly pursuing him for that purpose.

On the day of his departure, September 29th, he was unusually excited, and told his wife to hang him, instead of his enemies; after that he ran rapidly from the house as if pursued, calling that they were after him. He ran rapidly toward a thicket, followed by his wife, and disappeared in the thicket. She then returned to the house, and nothing was seen of him until the morning of the 1st. There had been search made for him during the interval, but without success; and on the morning of the 1st it had been announced that the search should be thorough and complete. The neighbors were to rendezvous at his house, and one in coming to that point through the woods, discovered his dead body. He was hanging in the fork of a limb of an immense sugar tree, sixty-three feet from the ground. The tree was three feet in diameter, and limbless for forty feet from the ground. He had climbed the body of the tree and ascended to the upper limb and crawled out fifteen feet upon that, and discovered the fork that angled up from the main limb and dropped himself into it, and so perished. Taking it all together, it is one of the most extraordinary suicides on record.

THE NEGRO.

What his Northern Friends Say of Him.

The Chicago Standard of October 1st, which is the organ of the Baptists of the Northwestern States, and is, of course, sufficiently Radical in its politics, says:

We doubt seriously whether it has been for the interests of the colored race themselves to excite among them such expectations as they seem now to cherish, or to encourage them in putting forward so prominently, and at so early an hour, their claims to political equality. Whatever may be true, abstractly, of the essential equality, in their condition, is what no one will assert. Nor was it to be expected that the Southern people would be prepared at once to welcome a change so radical and so immense as when he who was so recently a slave becomes not only a voter, but a legislator. There is reason in what they urge, that the colored people are, as a body, wholly unprepared, in their present condition, either to vote intelligently or to make laws. We believe that they carry their views in that direction to an extreme; but we believe that a negro, like a white man, is not to be held competent for the right exercise of all the rights of citizenship, simply because he is a man. So we believe, that upon the other side, as well, extreme views have been held and measures adopted which, in their earliest operation, may be crude and even dangerous.

The emancipation of four millions of colored people in the South, afforded the grandest possible opportunity for the practical application, at least in a degree, of such principles in this great question of political suffrage and the other rights of citizenship, as would have prepared the way for a thorough correction of existing evils. We fear that considerations of party interests, and the wish to use the colored population of the South for certain ends, have led to legislation which, however we might wish the country, and especially the South, were prepared for it, nevertheless is premature, crude, and likely to embarrass its own ends.

RUSSIAN WOMEN.

The Paris Academy of Science has conferred the degree of Bachelliere des-Sciences on a young Russian Mademoiselle Goutchakoff. This graceful act was not undeserved by the lady, who appears to have shared with her countrymen a commendable love of letters. The taste which Russian ladies have evinced for studies hitherto confined to men is worthy of note. It is so well known that the rumored establishment of a female university in St. Petersburg was generally credited. We believe it is not proposed to found one yet, although public classes have been opened for ladies. For many years the lectures delivered in the University of St. Petersburg were open to the public generally, and were attended in the session of 1859-'60 by three thousand pupils. The disturbances which led to the closing of the University in 1861, caused the exclusion of ladies at its re-opening under new regulations. The only subject that they could then study was medicine, the medical school having been separate from the University. Numbers of them preferred to study the science abroad, and having done so with success are permitted to practice in St. Petersburg, with all the privileges of foreign practitioners. The German papers represent that a "petition" from four hundred ladies requesting permission to attend the University lectures was rejected on account of the "nihilistic" tendencies of the measure. This is not a fact, firstly, petitions of the particular form described are not recognized in Russia; and nextly, in answer to letters from individual ladies, the University authorities stated that they were prevented by the rules admitting women, but that sympathizing with the movement, they would endeavor to have these regulations modified.

GRASSHOPPERS.

A Living Cloud of Them in Texas.

From the Dallas (Texas) Herald, October 3.]

We have many rumors of the appearance of grasshoppers in the counties west of us, within the past month, but, up to the time of writing this notice, none have been seen nearer here than Man[illegible] county.

We have heard of them at several places on the frontier—at the Sulphur Springs, on the Brazos; in Hood county, a gentleman informs us, they appeared in clouds on Monday, the 21st ult., and ate up every kind of vegetation. When they first appeared, it was thought by the campers around the springs to be a cloud, and preparations were made for rain; they made a noise in their flight very similar to a storm of wind and rain; when they came nearer, however, they began to descend and covered the earth in every direction, consuming all garden stuffs and other green vegetation they could find.

The following extract of a private letter from our former townsman, John H. Cochran, Esq., dated at Belknap, on the 16th of last month, describes the first appearance of the pests:

On yesterday, the 15th, I saw a sight which I hope no mortal man will ever see again. About 3 o'clock p.m., I went to the door, and observing that the sun shone but dimly, I looked for the cause. I saw in the distant west what I took to be the smoke of an immense fire, but on looking closer I perceived that it was not smoke. What was it? was the inquiry of every one, both old and young. It continued to approach, and in about two hours came near enough for us to see that it was a dense mass of moving objects. Nearer and nearer, dimmer and dimmer the sun shines—we see what it is—my Lord! the Egyptian plague! From the ground upward, as far as the eye could see, on account of their denseness, was an almost solid mass of living, moving insects—grasshoppers.

All who saw the sight agree, for every square inch of surface over which they were flying, there must have been no less than one bushel of grasshoppers. This body of insects were moving ahead of a northwest wind. They were some three miles wide and as long each way as the horizon was to us; this could be seen before they approached near enough to distinguish what they were—after they reached us the view was very limited on account of the denseness of the mass. They passed over in a northeast direction; still we have millions left of the first coming. This is no exaggeration. You may show it to Mr. Swindells? What will become of us?

P. S.—Since the above was written we learn that the grasshoppers have been seen returning west.

Neither Man, Woman nor Mermaid.

Paris Correspondence Boston Advertiser.]

Her robe does not rise above the lower extremities of the shoulder blades, her form is flexile, her feet tiny, her hand infinitesimal and a shock of cork screw ringlets shake about a head which can be compared to nothing but that of cherub suddenly possessed by a host of demons. This creature, gloved in doeskin, booted like Puss in Perrault's tales, who drives with masterly skill the sorrel horse that whisks her phaeton along; this divine imp who smokes her cigarette as she looks out at the corner of her eye for an adventure; who wears the masculine hat and paletot, and sports the cane; who hunts, shoots, boats, trots and travels by herself from France to Germany, and Germany to Stockholm, cannot be of the feminine sex. And yet she is not a man. She is the Parisienne—neither man, woman nor mermaid; the degenerate offspring of this generation, who despises man and yet devours him voraciously; who robs him under a hundred disguises, and flogs daily in one form or another to make him sweat out gold to her at every pore. This is the Paris ine sailing falsely under the flag of marriage, the wife of a fortune hunter, the make-shift mother for whom a baby is an excuse for coquetry, a thing to be worn as an ornament, to be paraded in the front seat of the open carriage side by side with a blue-eyed poodle. This is the Parisienne who by way of pastime has accepted the challenge of those nameless ladies; who enshrouds herself, and her followers along with her, in clouds of tarlatane and lace, and coils round them her tails of satin, silk and velvet; who long for the brooch and earrings which Mlle. Cora or Leonide Leblanc wore on such a night at the opera, or the caleche of the Barruchi, which she intrigues night and day to get hold of.

THE RETURNS—VICTORY!!!

As the smoke of battle clears away the patient and hopeful are rewarded with a glimpse of the victory for which the prayers of good men throughout the Union have ascended to Heaven.

INDIANA—The State of NIBLACK, of KERR, of HOLMAN and noble DAN VOORHEES—is the first of the four that have just held elections, to range herself with the gallant and noble States that have illustrated their devotion to the Union by Democratic majorities. Not only has she elected to Congress the gentlemen named above, and excluded such scoundrels as VEATCH, the whilom commander of Memphis, but she has elected HENDRICKS—the noble HENDRICKS—Governor, by a majority of not less than 1500 votes.

Shall we "prepare for GRANT?" No! Not while the people are repudiating such creatures as Impeacher ASHLEY and BEN. EGGLESTON, of Ohio, and KELLEY and MYERS of Pennsylvania—all of whom have been defeated;—not while the telegraph continues to bring the good news of Democratic gains, as in the instance of Pennsylvania, which gives the Radicals only 3000 majority in the State, as against 17,178 in 1866, making for us fully 14,000 votes.

Shall we "prepare for GRANT?" Not while the Democracy of Indiana and Pennsylvania perform such noble service in behalf of liberty and law.

THE CONGRESSIONAL EXCURSION.

Since the refusal of Alderman RUFFIN to serve as a representative of poor Memphis among the Congressional Excursionists, we have not heard a word upon the subject. It cannot be that our City Fathers have determined to ignore the thing altogether and take no cognizance of Mr. RUFFIN'S action. They are not that bad, surely. And yet, time flies. It is hurrying on the day when the Excursionists will be at our doors. The Board must not let this matter sleep as they do the charges against PASSMORE, the live and busy Auctioneer. That is, in great part, his concern. But the Congressional Excursion is a question that affects every man who has pride in, and hope for Memphis. It will be said by malicious people, that as long as we are paying one and a half per cent. per month for money for other uses and worse abuses, we cannot afford to cast bread upon the waters at a cost of $3000. As to that we have nothing to say. We do not know of any abuses supported at such a cost, and we don't desire to provoke even the spirit of inquiry among our citizens. But we do want the question settled whether we are to have a share in the Mississippi Valley Excursion party or not. Is Memphis to be represented, and is she to bait her hook for the small fry of Congress? That's the question.

VICTORY AND DEFEAT.

Insomuch as we have not succeeded in carrying the recent elections by absolute State majorities, we are defeated. Insomuch as we have decreased the Republican majorities in those States, and to that extent broken the triumphant spirit of Radicalism, we are victorious.

The prestige of general success is with our opponents, but that does not guarantee them success in November.

The prestige of great gains is with the Democracy, to inspire to renewed exertions against a foe that has made a stubborn resistance with unusual forces of means, patronage and fraud.

In the late elections many local considerations directed the result so adverse to us, notwithstanding the Democracy made as gallant a fight as was ever made by any party in the history of the country. At the General Election, on the 31 of November next, the issues will be of a purely national character. The Northern people will then be called upon to say whether they approve of the negroized Governments of the South; whether they are willing parties to the unjust discriminations that beggar the poor man to aggrandise the bondholder. They are to say whether we are to have peace in the Union, or are to "continue in a state of siege" and chronic disquiet, at an expense for soldiers, equipments and forage such as no European Government, on an absolute basis, was ever called upon to pay. They are to say whether we are to be subjugated as a people, or be restored to all the rights, privileges and immunities for which our fathers as well as theirs contended with the mother country.

These are the issues between Radicalism and Democracy. And they are as live to-day as they were on Monday last, when our hopes were high, and victory seemed within our grasp. They are "live" with us, as they are with our brethren at the North; and are to be contended for as gallantly, as manfully, and as unremittingly as though victory perched on every Democratic banner in Pennsylvania and the Northwest.

In this belief we must struggle on; in this belief we must fight on; and, in the conviction of right against all odds, we must advance to the rescue of the country from Radicalism.

THE FAIR.

On Tuesday next, the 20th inst., the Shelby County Agricultural Association will revive an old custom, much honored and patronized by the people of town and country before the war, and inaugurate at the race track a Fair, where they expect the farmers, manufacturers, mechanics and housekeepers of the surrounding country will compete for the handsome prizes subscribed by the Association and many of the liberal-minded ladies and business men of Memphis.

All the arrangements have been completed—with railroad and transportation companies, and on the ground—for the reception of fabrics, cattle, machinery, plants, flowers, shrubs, vegetables and mechanical handiwork; and we hope the people generally will respond to the generosity of the Association by the most liberal show of the fruits of their industry, skill and toil.

Our hotel room is ample for the accommodation of any increase of visitors. The Theater will open under new, energetic and intelligent management, and the residences of our opulent and wealthy residents will be opened to their country friends and for the display of a lavish hospitality. Amusements of all grades and character will be in full blast, and our country cousins, as well as visitors from other cities, will find every moment of their time occupied during "Fair week."

Our wholesale and retail merchants have made unusual preparations, and our milliners are doing business amid a plethora of beautiful and fashionable articles such as would do no discredit to the most celebrated modistes, and all in anticipation of the Fair.

Even our street contractors have become imbued with the spirit of the Fair, and are hurrying up the Nicholson, so that our visitors may, if they choose, enjoy a drive of twenty or thirty miles over the best paved streets in the world. In a word, every inducement that a Southern city can hold out will be offered to exhibitors at and visitors to this revival of the Fairs of the Shelby County Agricultural Association. We hope for not less than twenty thousand visitors during the week.

DON'T PREPARE FOR GRANT.

Prepare for GRANT, says the Louisville Courier in a fit of despondency and gloom. Prepare for GRANT in Kentucky they may, but we in Tennessee have no mind to, nor intention of preparing for him. We are convinced his rule, if he is elected, will be of the mildness of mother's milk compared to the extravagance and Bombastes Furioso style of BROWNLOW, yet we have no intention of preparing for GRANT. We are at issues with Gen. GRANT yet; and mean to continue so until after the third of November, when he or our gallant leaders—SEYMOUR and BLAIR—are to be defeated.

We have no preparation to make for GRANT. We have no place for him in our hearts and will make none for him at our hearths. Opposed to him politically, we shall continue so. Defeat of the Democracy of Pennsylvania, Ohio, and Indiana, will not in the least affect our principles, our hopes, or aspirations. We will not even prepare for the possibility of defeat. We do not count or dream of defeat;—but victory. To admit the possibility of our defeat in November is to help for the certain victory of Radicalism. Who admits GRANT'S election, because of our recent defeat, does more to break up the Democratic party, and more for his election, than all the Republicans who can speak in this neighborhood between this and the day of election.

THE ISSUES IN TENNESSEA NOT AFFECTED.

The issues between Radicalism and Democracy in Tennessee are still the same. They are neither modified nor affected by the result in Indiana, Pennsylvania, or Ohio. It is our duty, as heartily as ever, to contend for victory with the vultures who are preying upon what remains of our gallant old State. Either we are to be negroissd like Georgia and all of the Southern States, or we are to govern as only white men can govern. We have BROWNLOW to defeat. We have to break down and put under our feet the men who have doubled our State debt, inflicted unnumbered outrages and wrongs upon us, and still continue, by their confessions of one another, to steal from us in the disguise of God-and-morality Educators. We have before us the labor of defeating depravity, ruffianism and theft, and we must do it.

IRISHMEN!

It has been mooted, to your disadvantage, that a few of you have determined to scratch the ticket in November, and assist to defeat LEFTWICH, because he did not secure for you offices under the city government for which you fancied you had claims. We have denied that such could possibly be the case. We do not believe there is an Irishman, worthy the name, in Memphis, who could forget the Know-Nothing origin of Radicalism, its proscription and threats against the Roman Catholic Church, and would help to fasten it upon the people of this Congressional District or the Union.

Irishmen of Memphis, be true to your convictions of duty, and vote the Democratic ticket, throughout, not a name erased.

AID FOR RAILROADS.

We hope the Board of Mayor and Aldermen, at their meeting this evening, will settle, so far as they can, the amount of aid the Selma Railroad is to have from the city—whether $300,000 or $500,000. We join those interested in asking for the latter sum.

And, while considering the Selma, we suggest the good Fathers remember the Little Rock Railroad, that has, through so many vicissitudes and changes, dragged its slow length along. It is perhaps the most necessary to Memphis of all the lines of railroad centering here, hence the importance of finishing it immediately. It needs $500,000 for that purpose.

The River Railroad, to connect us with the tobacco country between this city and the Ohio river, should also be considered, and some provision made for its immediate commencement at Memphis.

Would it not be well to make appropriation of say one million dollars, to be divided between the three roads, and thus insure their early construction? Let the Board answer.

THE NORFOLK CONVENTION.

The thorough-going and energetic business men who represent the South at the Norfolk Convention, by the enthusiasm they inspire by their example, have already done much for their section. The spirit they manifest—the indifference to political issues or results—is one of the healthiest and most inspiring signs given out by this gathering of merchants. From the accounts that reach us, they have been guided by wisdom and discretion, and act upon the basis of a bright and happy future for the South. They have not, nor do they propose to make any preparations for GRANT. Indeed, they don't seem to think his election as at all possible—and, if possible, don't care. Building up the country, energising its tradesmen—that is what they have come together for. They think it can be done no matter who is President. They don't think that the coming Presidential election is to result in the toototal ruin of the United States. They know there are more Congressmen to be elected by others than the States that voted on Tuesday, and, that as in President JOHNSON'S case, it is possible, that GRANT, if elected, will find his purposes materially modified by an opposing House of Representatives. Anyhow, they are determined on business, and upon making up to her the losses the South has suffered. The era of prosperity which push and energy will induce, even in a desert, is about to dawn upon our garden South.

WASHINGTON.

WASHIGTON, Oct. 15th.—The President has recognized Adolbert Celestine Daisy Consular, agent of Italy at Cincinnati. General Sibley has forwarded to Gen. Howard several additional affidavits confirmatory of the first report of Major Howard of the Committee of Disturbances. The affidavits are those if Fried Poper, excepting one of a volunteer officer of the United States Army. Gen. Hancock arrived here to-day. His health is much improved, though he still suffers from wounds received in the late war. He called on the President, and was at his own headquarters several hours this morning.

Gen. Howard has directed the Assistant Commissioner of Bureau for this district to close theoffice on the 1st of November.

NORFOLK.

NORFOLK, October 15.—The Opera House was crowded this morning by delegates to the Commercial Covention and a large audience of citizens. Gen. Malone is President. Intense interest was manifested. The Business Committee submitted a report, which states that the recommendation of the Bristol Convention held July 16, 1868, in regard to direct ocean communication between Europe and Norfolk and the Mississippi and Ohio valley, had been considered, and that a recommendation be adopted by the present Convention proposing a subscription of $8,000,000 to be immediately made to incorporate the International Commercial Company of the city of New York under an act of the General Assembly of Virginia. The Committee report that it expresses pleasure at the interest manifested by the various western and northwestern States in a line of communication between the Valley of the Mississippi and the Atlantic ocean, by way of the Ohio, Kanawha and James rivers, and in view of its importance the Convention looked hopefully forward to its speedy completion as a great improvement of national importance.

The various delegations from the different States represented and supported the report of the Business Committee. The report was adopted—$105 000 was subscribed in Norfolk, $50,000 in Nashville, $25,000 in Petersburg, $20,000, etc.

The tobacco planters attending the Convention held a mass meeting to-night to take into consideration the propriety of subscribing $100,000 to the enterprise.

Niblack, Holman, Kerr and Dan Voorhees Elected to Congress.

The Sky Clearing Up All Around.

INDIANA.

ST. LOUIS, October 15.—The Democrat has a special from Omaha as follows:

"The returns from twelve of the most populous counties show over 800 Republican gain, while the Democratic gain is only about forty. The entire Republican majority in these counties is about 1500. Twenty-four counties in the interior are yet to be heard from, which will no doubt make the Republican majority in the State from 2000 to 3000. The Republicans elected twelve State Senators and thirty-five members to the House. The Democrats elected one State Senator and four Representatives."

The Times has a dispatch from J. J. Bingham, Secretary of the Indiana State Central Committee, as follows:

"The election is undoubtedly close, but we have little doubt that we have elected Hendricks.

"The Radicals claim the State, but are unable to name any majority. I have therefore to believe that the State is safe. Large Democratic gains in many counties are reported. Niblack is elected to Congress in the First District, Kerr in the Second, Holman in the Third, and Voorhies in the Sixth. This is a gain of one over our very latest previous advices, and figures insure the State by 1500 majority. We do not see how this reckoning can be overturned."

A Cheyenne dispatch says returns from Laramie City and other stations will secure the election of Spink, delegate to Congress over Burleigh, Podd and Tooley, by several hundred majority.

INDIANAPOLIS, October 15.—Official returns received to-day show small Republican gains are reported. Both parties are still claiming the State ticket, but the indications are that the Republican majority will be 1000. Official returns from the Fourth Congressional District places the election of Julian, Republican, for Congress in doubt. His majorities are much less than the State ticket.

The returns from thirty-seven counties official, and all the counties but one official, and reported Governor Baker, Republican, Governor, 829 majority. The counties yet to hear from, gave a Republican majority in 1866 of 395. Latest reports for Congress, in the 4th District, elect Julian, Republican, by 129 majority. Voorhies, Democrat, in the 6th District, has less than 100 majority. Republicans will have a majority on the joint ballot in the legislature of 30 to 35.

PENNSYLVANIA.

PHILADELPHIA, October 15.—A revised table of majorities, as far as received, reduces the Republican majority to 7951. The Age, (Democratic), estimates the Republican majority at about 3000. Another dispatch says the Republican State Committee of Pennsylvania fix the majority at 10,665.

The Coroner's Jury commenced the inquest on the brothers Byrne who were killed on Tuesday. Two witnesses testified that Samuel Holt, a Sheriff's officer, fired at the deceased, and afterwards boasted of having put two of them out of the way. The Coroner's Jury meet again on Saturday.

A dispatch from Indiana county makes Covode's majority in the district 850. Lebanon county gives Coke for Congress 1475, and his election is sure by 325 majority.

NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, October 15.—The schooner Isaac Mentz, Capt. Gray, arrived this morning from Acquin, Hayti, which port she left September 27th. A few days previous to her sailing the inhabitants, expecting a rain, all fled and took refuge on the shipping lying in the harbor. Capt. Gray had 170 persons and a deck load of furniture on his boat for four days.

The Congressional Nominating Convention of the Constitutional Union party met in the various districts last evening, but, with the exception of James Brooks, in the Eighth district, no nominations were made.

FOREIGN.

LONDON, October 14.—The naturalization treaty negotiations, which are being conducted between Minister Reverdy Johnson, on the part of the American Government, and Lord Stanley, on the part of Queen Victoria, are progressing in a very favorable manner. The doctrine held by the United States in regard to the transfer of allegiance previous to and since the war of 1812 has been fully maintained by Mr. Johnson in shaping the new naturalization bill, a work which has just been concluded. Lord Stanley and Minister Johnson are now engaged in considering the Alabama claim question, which it is pretty certain will be arranged soon, subject, of course, to the ratification of the legislative bodies and the approval of the governments of the two countries.

Mr. Gladstone made a speech yesterday at Liverpool. He examined the questions of Fenianism and the discontent in Ireland, and assigned the cause therefor. He spoke earnestly of the need of reform, and dwelt on the words of D'Arcy McGee, as conservative on those causes as a voice of the dead from over the ocean.

MADRID, October 15.—Forty-eight cities, being all the administration centers, adhere to the Junta and monarchial principles. Seven cities denounce the clergy, and all religious orders.

The meeting of Cortes has been fixed for December 15th, so that representatives from Cuba and Porto Rico may appear, and court only by words reported to-day.

The French Government has furloughed 30,000 men from the army and navy.

MEMPHIS APPEAL

Office--No. 13 Jefferson Street.

For Finance, Trade, General Markets and River Reports, see Fourth Page.

THE APPEAL.

The DAILY APPEAL is without question or doubt the ablest and best daily newspaper now published in West Tennessee, enjoys a larger circulation than any of its contemporaries, and an advertising patronage equal to its popularity as the OLDEST DAILY IN THIS PORTION OF THE SOUTH. It is published every day in the year at the same rate per week (25c.) as our contemporaries who publish only six days in the week.

The WEEKLY APPEAL, circulating extensively in Arkansas, Mississippi, Alabama and West Tennessee, is the largest, most popular and most valuable paper of its class published in the Mississippi Valley. At $4 per annum it is a better paper than any of its contemporaries. We take a limited number of advertisements at half daily rates. The circulation of the WEEKLY APPEAL affords an unusual opportunity for merchants and business men to put themselves in communication with the planters and merchants of the above States.

CITY MATTERS.

YESTERDAY was another beautiful day, clear and balmy as spring time.

A GAS MAIN is being laid on Monroe street from Main to Front, along the southern line of the new hotel.

AN ELEGANT turtle soup lunch at Frank's, under Commercial Hotel, this morning.

SOME THIEF stole a splendid buggy and harness from the premises of Mr. Mollior at Germantown, yesterday morning.

ALFRED OWENS was sent up to the Criminal Court, by Justice Millard, under $3000 bonds for stealing a horse from Fred Weymer.

TWO MACKERELS were sent up yesterday for ten days each, for vagrancy. In the absence of a work house they board at the county jail.

FIRE.—The alarm sounded yesterday about five o'clock was caused by the burning out of a chimney on Poplar street.

'SQUIRE BLACK yesterday fined Joe Holman, second engineer of the Caldwell, $5 and costs, for assaulting a deckhand.

H. Dow, grocer and commission merchant, has removed to 206 Front street, where he will hereafter be found by his customers and friends. 1w

THE Board of Commissioners of Shelby county met yesterday morning. Nothing was done except the alteration of several tax assessments. They meet again this morning at eight.

DIRECT TRADE.—Six hundred bales of cotton were shipped yesterday, by a firm in this city, directly to Bremen, via Baltimore, E. D. Cobb, Esq., agent of the Baltimore and Ohio line, giving through bills for the shipment.

THE SONS OF TEMPERANCE ball comes off to-night at the Cochran Hall. It will be a pleasant affair, and young gentlemen who like such things can find tickets of admittance at Eyrichs, No. 340 Main street.

MESSRS. CARUTHERS & SYKES have entered into a partnership for the practice of law, and have taken an office in the Ayres Building. We congratulate the Bar of Memphis upon this accession to their ranks, and hope that the new firm will come in for a liberal share of the patronage of the public.

MRS. CARROL and Annie Lynch had a small fight yesterday morning, in which hair, combs and calico suffered awfully. Each had the other arrested on a State warrant and carried before 'Squire Walton, who, with his usual impartiality, fined each of the two rampant viragoes five dollars and costs.

THE CIRCUS.—We learn through Mr. Boynton, one of the attaches of Ames' great Circus, that they propose to remain with us four days instead of three. The large lot on Adams St., opposite the Central Hotel, has been secured as a locality where the show will pitch its tent. This will be much more pleasant and convenient than the old locality on the bluff.

THE TWO YOUNG men, belonging to the Cincinnati boat, who were unmercifully beaten below Fort Pickering, on Tuesday, (of which we gave an account yesterday), turn out to have been white men, and not negroes, as reported. This makes the outrage even more atrocious and we sincerely hope the perpetrators of the outrage will be caught and dealt with accordingly, to the utmost severity of the law.

A NEGRO BRUTE, named John Quigley, but better known as "Shang," yesterday attacked and beat a colored woman named Jane Hall nearly to death, at Rotten Row, (foot of Gayoso street.) She got out a warrant for him, had him arrested, and the case will come up before 'Squire Griffith to-day. Quigley is said to be a most notorious and determined ruffian.

LEISURE HOURS.—We have received the first number of a monthly magazine of this name, published by Dwyer & Co., Pittsburg, Pa., and edited by J. Trainor King. It is a continuation of the Pittsburg Quarterly Magazine, very neatly and handsomely gotten up, and contains a large amount of good and interesting reading matter. In the present number there is an article by the talented and well known Carrie Belle Sinclair.

WE CALL the attention of the authorities to the frightful stench which hangs round Poplar street market. The cause of this effluvium is not known, but is supposed by those who have examined somewhat into it, to be caused by the bits of offal, bone, etc., that are carried by rats to their burroughs, under the banquettes and stalls, and there are decaying. There is also a reddish, foul-smelling fluid, of some sort, in the gutters, which should also be cleaned out.

MESSRS. GALBREATH, STEWART & Co., wholesale grocers and cotton factors, announce, in another column, that they have moved into their new store in the Stonewall block, No. 11 Union street, and that they now have on hand there, and intend keeping up one of the largest stocks of groceries ever offered to the Memphis public. Their stock comprises every article that can be wished for or thought of, belonging to a complete family or plantation grocery. Mr. Galbreath gives his undivided attention to the sale of cotton, and planters may rest assured of having their best interests subserved in all consignments made this house.

COLORED EDUCATIONAL STATISTICS. The Freedmen's Bureau Superintendent of Education for this State, a Col. Thompson, submitted to Gen. Carlin, before relieving that officer as Assistant Commissioner, a report for the year ending September 30, 1868, in which are found the following facts in regard to the negro schools of the State: Of schools in operation there are 130, (day, 114, and night 6). The total number of pupils enrolled are 8246; male 3740; female, 4506; average attendance, 7308. The total number of teachers is 161. Of this number 112 are white, and 49 are colored.

Look for Capitable!--Great bargains in Dress Goods, and House Furnishing Goods. Our stock must be closed out this season. J. H. Loewenstine & Bros., No. 231 Main street.

JUDGE HARRISON.

He is Announced to Speak at Three Places at Once.

The Nunn Party Euchred.

Buzzard's Roost was again the scene of negro and white orgies last night, which would make the devil blush to own that he instigated, or had part in. As soon as it was known Judge Harrison, the radical elector for the State, was in the city, the rival wings of the great Radical buzzard were in a flutter to secure his services to enlighten their mobs as to the great principals of the radical party. The Smith wing in their organ, announced, with a great spread buzzard, defouling the U. S. coat of arms at the head of the column, that the Hon. H. H. Harrison, would address the faithful on the Bluff, at the roost. The Nunn wing would have him at Rocco Hall, where the Bulletin and its circle of choice spirits meet. Judge Harrison feeling the awkwardness of the dilemma in which he had been placed by his too zealous fellow Rads, announced that he would speak on his own hook at the Greenlaw Opera House. The Smith wing determined, however, not to be bosuked, and at short notice got up one of their regular "loud" old crowds, out on the Bluff, to hear and welcome home Barbour Lewis, the honorable. The "Judge," meanwhile, got sick and postponed his address until this evening, when we are, we suppose, to have the city again turned into a pandemonium for the nonce.

THE RADICAL WAR.

The Bulletin Again Floors the Post.

Gen. Smith's Qualifications as "an Honorable Gentleman and Gallant Soldier" Slightly Discussed.

The Bulletin is pursuing the war which it inaugurated against the Post and its protoges, in the beginning of the canvass, in a most savage and relentless manner. For awhile, as long as the Honorable (God save the mark) Barbour Lewis was at home, and his "vast intellect, keen wit, and profound learning" (?) could be brought in play as a counter-battery, the conflict was lively,—we may say, terrific; but since that "grant de combat" has been absent, (since he was compelled, it is said, by a mental dread of the "Ku-klux democracy," to leave the city between sunset and the dawning), the guns of the Post have made but feeble replies, and of late, indeed, they have ceased to reply altogether. The Bulletin, meanwhile, having finished up the Eatons, now turns its guns upon W. J. Smith, the Post's "pet Herro," and commenced an assault upon his lines day before yesterday by recounting chapter No. I of his military history. In this chapter the proceedings of the court martial, convened at Bolivar, Tenn., December 9th, 1863, to try Smith are given at length. We regret that the document is too voluminous to copy in full; the following, however, are the Bulletin's introductory remarks:

> During the late war the army of the United States was composed mainly of men who entered from a desire to defend and preserve the Union from the assaults of rebel enemies. There were, however, some men who used the uniform of the Federal soldier to commit acts that were dishonorable and disgraceful. The records of the different division and corps headquarters contain documents that have, in many instances, been lost sight of in the rush of important events with which the period was filled—documents which often give an insight into the true character of individuals, not otherwise to be obtained.
>
> The Memphis Post has much to say about W. J. Smith as "an honorable gentleman and a gallant soldier." The Congressional Executive Committee, in their address to the Republican voters of the Eighth District, have made a terrible exposure of the record of W. J. Smith in the Legislature of Tennessee. They have shown that he regularly sold his vote, and the enormous price for which he sold it in several instances, and to whom he sold it. The damning story should cause every honest voter who has thought of casting his ballot for Smith to demand from him a full and complete refutation, or, in case of his failure to prove the charges false, to refuse all further support of a man capable of such infamous conduct.
> The committee declined to say anything of Smith's military record, but we have been searching through the old orders of the Sixteenth army corps, and we find Smith's name there just as plain and unmistakable as in the cases of the sale of himself to the Fertilizing Company, the Memphis City Railway Company, or the Nonconnah Turnpike Company. We thought the man could not have gone in so strongly in his first lapse from virtue.
> Read the following general order, and see from what small beginnings the hero of Nonconnah has risen to his present lofty eminence.

Here follows the official copy of General Orders No. 168, (the order of the court martial before which Smith was arraigned). The charges are four in number, and are as follows: Charge I., "Robbery." To this are appended five specifications, setting forth the dates, place, etc., of the robberies. Charge II., "Misapplication and embezzlement of public property entrusted to him." To this charge two specifications are appended. Charge III., "Insubordination, conduct to the prejudice of good order and military discipline." One specification. Charge IV., "Conduct unbecoming an officer and a gentleman." Four specifications fix the particulars of this charge.

The Bulletin concludes by saying:

> Now we do not undertake to say that W. J. Smith was guilty of a single one of these charges, but we ask any man who has served as a soldier in either army, if he ever heard of such a list of charges being brought by his superior officers against "an honorable gentleman and a gallant soldier?"

THE NEW MEMPHIS THEATER.—On Monday night next, after having been closed for several months, the New Memphis opens its doors for the season, with a full troupe of first-class artists, many of whom have acquired a national celebrity. During the past summer, the building has been thoroughly renovated, repainted and decorated from pit to dome, making it one of the most handsome theaters in the South. The management consists of Mrs. Thompson, Lessee, Mr. C. D. Steinkuhl, Manager and Treasurer, and Mr. Robert McWade, Stage Manager. The order of exercises on Monday evening will be very interesting. Mrs. Lanagan, leading lady, who is a favorite with the Memphis public, will deliver an opening address written expressly for her and the occasion. After the recitation, the whole company in full dress, will be introduced, and sing the opening chorus from the Opera Bouffe, Grand Duchesse de Gerolstein. The regular performance will then commence, the play for the evening being the Lady of Lyons, in which Miss Charlotte Thompson will appear as "Pauline," a character to which she is peculiarly adapted. We are confident that our citizens will show the management that they appreciate the efforts which the latter have made to secure Memphis a first-class place of amusement, and will not only encourage them by turning out in mass, and crowding the house, on opening night, but they will extend to them, throughout the season, that liberal patronage without which all the efforts of the Management will be a failure.

ROBBERY—THE BEER WOUNDED. Yesterday morning about ten o'clock a negro burglar entered the house of another negro, named Stevens, on Exchange street, behind St. Mary's Church, and while he was engaged in rifling the trunks and drawers, the owner came in on him. Dropping his plunder he took to his heels, pursued by Stevens and others whom he called to his aid. They chased him through the residence of Newt Hart, Esq., and out into Exchange street, where he was headed off by detective McCune, who came up accidentally. McCune drew his derringer, the only weapon that he had, and the darky took refuge in a crowd of children, among whom McCune was of course afraid to shoot. The robber, however, moved "out of that," and as he did so McCune took a shot at him, striking him in the left shoulder. On this the robber drew a revolver, fired at McCune, and turned and fled, thus far making good his escape.

LETTER FROM BOLIVAR.

The Radical Blowout Monday. Smith and Nunn Abuse Each Other—Military Occupation of the Town.

Correspondence of the Appeal]

BOLIVAR, TENN., October 13, 1868.

Editors Memphis Appeal:

Dear Sirs: Supposing that, as your valuable paper seeks to disseminate the news of transpiring events throughout our country, and that your columns are always open to contributions looking to this end, I have ventured to write you a letter from our quiet little town, that was yesterday disturbed with the advent of a new feature in its harmonious life. You may remember that it was the day for a Radical speaking, and, accordingly, on the evening previous, arrived the various animals of the human menagerie. I felt like repeating over again the nursery tales of my boyhood, as the Rads, one by one, crept into the precincts of our leaf-embowered village:

> "Hark! hush! the dogs do bark, the beggars are coming to town.
> Some in rags, and some in tags, and some in velvet gowns."

H. H. Harrison, Dave Nunn, W. J. Smith, Ham Carter, Ireland, et id omne genus, all presented themselves for inspection. It was evident early in the morning of yesterday, that there was no omnium gatherum to honor this new advent of orators, and the small body of men who gathered around an impromptu stand, would scarcely number fifty, composed of the few negroes in town—men and women, who left their work for a day of idleness—and the curiosity seekers among the whites. It is worthy of compliment to the mass of the people, white and black, that they felt more the importance of their cotton fields than the disgusting picture of the day. Harrison lead off in a lame style, and I thought out of all haste and discretion, by laboring to make what he evidently thought the Constitutional view of the Radical policy and measures. It was more than apparent to the more intelligent of his audience that he had got hold of the wrong side of that question, for they readily saw that he was forced to pass over many points of the Radical Congressional legislation, which could not bear the test of the Constitution upon them. The less informed received his labored effort as a still born prediction and could not see into the depths of his labarynthine arguments. I felt sorry and mortified that a man like Judge Harrison—who with fine address and personal appearance, and very fine talents, upon whom so lately the judicial ermine of our Supreme Court was conferred, should prostitute his talents to so poor a calling as this in which he is engaged, and forgetful of the dignity of that position, should stoop to dabble his fingers in the dirty cess-pool of Radical politics. It is matter of no surprise that Barbour Lewis, Tomeny, Smith and Dave Nunn should be Radical, for it is evidently congenial to them to feast on the low im pulses of their party, but that a man like Harrison, who would pass well anywhere for a man of large and noble views, to be satisfied with such company, I confess I am surprised. But as of old, Facilis descensus averni!

Nunn exclaims Dave Nunn, a man whom I have known for some 10 or 15 years, but never expected much of him, though it was certainly amusing to see how he belabored poor Smith, for in anecdote and pantomime he has the advantage of Smith, and we were very well repayed for listening at them both, as they "showed up" each other's rascalities in politics. My own thoughts were in the language of a little poem, illustrating the Devil's comment on hearing two lawyers abusing each other:

> "If all they say of each other be true,
> The Devil has surely been robbed of his due."

Dave, for want of better material, gave us an anecdote which was intended as a cut at our candidate, Dr. Leftwich. He said, the Conservative party "so-called," was only the old Democratic party under a new name. It reminded him of the showman who dressed up a little dog and tried to pass him off for a monkey; but an observing countryman seeing him, says, "What, ye' don't call that thing a monkey?" "Yes," replied the showman, "of course I do." "Why," says the countryman, "jest look at that dog's tail sticking out behind there." So says Dave, they call it Conservative party, but it is too plain that the Rebel tail is sticking out behind. How one thing will suggest another; and this suggested to my mind the story in Æsop's fable of the poor ass, who envying the monarch of the woods, threw a lion's skin over his body, and went hovering through the forest, frightening all the timid beasts of the field by his appearance, until the wily fox approaching near, discovered his long ears sticking out and called out to the frightened beasts not to be alarmed, as it was only a jackass. So it seems that this great Republican party, so-called, to which the illustrious Dave claims allegiance, is not indeed republican, but really Radical, and like the stupid brute or the fable, has all the delusive instincts of the jackass. But enough of this. While Smith was endeavoring to repay Nunn for his charges upon him, the assembly was astonished by the sudden appearance of a company of about thirty Federal soldiers, who marched into town ostensibly to preserve the peace of this peaceful community, but I suspect really to influence the ballot-box in the coming election. Yes, it has come to this—

> "Their vandal step is on thy street,
> They gaze on every girl they meet;
> Thy subjugation's quite complete,
> Bolivar, my Bolivar."

But it is said they are honorable men. Well, it may be so! So "Brutus was an honorable man"—"they are all honorable men."

Excuse me, Mr. Editor, for closing now, for, like Antony over the dead body of Cæsar, his friend—

> "My heart is in the coffin of my country's liberties
> And I must pause till it come back to me."

ERIE TRANSPORTATION COMPANY. The shippers of Memphis will do well to consider the claims of this company when about to make arrangements for the transportation of cotton to the East. By river to Evansville, and thence by the Evansville and Crawfordsville and Terre Haute and Indianapolis Railroad, thence by Bellefontaine railway line to Cleveland, thence by the Lake Shore Railroad to Dunkirk, and thence by the Erie road to New York. Coronna & Co. The solicitor, Mr. Charlie Haight, is a business man of unmeasured capacity and great energy, well known to all shippers; and Mr. W. A. Hurd, the contracting agent, is also at present in the city and exerting himself for the company. We recommend the Erie to our merchants generally.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE DAILY APPEAL, MEMPHIS, October 15, 1868.

FINANCE.

Gold opened in New York at 137½, went up to 138¾, and closed at 137½. We quote at 135@135¼ buying.

Very large offerings of cotton bills characterized the money market to-day, but we learn that in all cases our banks were abundantly able to meet the emergency.

The demand for Exchange is light for commercial purposes, and consequently currency comes on by express unabated in volume. Rates are uniform at ½ discount buying, and selling at par to ¼ discount.

We learn that there is some movement on foot to absorb all the City Bonds upon the market. From all we can gather a ring consisting of one or more Memphis capitalists, in connection with parties from Baltimore, are about to form a ring and will be heavy buyers, if they can be obtained at anything like present rates. Paying a liberal interest, and the payment of the January interest now assured, with scarcely any doubt, we should not be at all astonished to learn that our bonds appreciated quite materially within the next few weeks. Sales have occurred within a day or two at 49½@49¾c., but holders were bound to sell, and the price obtained was something under the market value.

There is a demand for Memphis and Little Rock bonds at 46@48. A small sale at the latter figure took place to-day. Other stocks and bonds are in fair demand, but we heard of no transactions.

The time for the payment of city taxes is fast rolling around. All taxes unpaid on the 1st of November will incur the same penalty as follows: the non-payment of county taxes at that time.

City Scrip is firm and will be so for some time. Brokers buy at 72@73; selling at 74@75c.

County Warrants are firm. Dealers take all small pieces, say of $50 and under at 60c, and sell at 65c. While large warrants are taken at 57@58; selling at 60@62c.

Police Scrip is firm. Buying at 80c; selling at 85c.

One million one hundred thousand dollars in notes of the Bank of the Valley, Westchester, Va., were, in pursuance of an order of the United States Court, burned recently.

The current number of the Bankers' Magazine contains some interesting statistics of the production of gold and silver, and the amount at present supposed to be in use in the world. From 1492 to 1848 it is estimated that the yield was equal to $8,900,000,000, of which only $2,267,000,000 was in gold and $6,678,000,000 in silver. But the proportion of gold to silver has greatly changed in recent years; so that, from 1854 to 1868, of $5,574,000,000 of the precious metals, $3,379,000,000 were in gold and only $2,194,000,000 in silver. Of the gold produced between 1848 and 1868, America yielded nearly one-half, and the United States and Australia produced nearly four-fifths of the whole. It is supposed that Europe and America possessed, in 1848, six thousand millions of gold and silver; of which nineteen hundred millions were gold and forty-one hundred millions silver. It is asserted that, owing to the enormous production of gold since 1848, after making allowance for waste, destruction, use in manufactures and export to Asia, for all losses, that is to say, the supply of gold in Europe and America is now about two hundred million dollars greater than that of silver.

COTTON.

Cotton was dull in Liverpool at the opening to-day, with prices unchanged, Uplands 10¼d; Orleans 11d; and though dull and tending downwards, at noon closed quiet with quotations unchanged.

In New York at the opening the market was dull and prices nominally lower—Low Middlings 24½c, Uplands 25½c, Orleans 25½c, Good Middlings 27c. At 11:20 a.m. Cotton was dull and tending downwards—Low Middlings 24c, Uplands 25c, Orleans 25½, Good Middlings 26½c. At noon it was again ¼c lower. At 3 p.m. the demand was fair and prices firm. Sales 2000 bales.

Our market was very dull at the opening, but the demand improved before noon, and the market closed firm. Sales during the day were quite heavy, but at lower rates than yesterday as a general thing, while some sellers reported the market better. Prices on the whole are very irregular and governed somewhat by the necessities of the seller. We quote a few sales: 9 bales Ordinary at 20c; 40 Good Ordinary at 21c, 30 at 21½c, 60 at 21c, 8 at 21c, 14 at 21½c, 46 at 21c, 6 at 21c, 40 at 21c; 11 Low Middlings at 22c, 25 at 22c, 35 at 22c, 35 at 22c, 198 at 22c, 15 at 22c, 18 at 22c, 24 at 22½c, 43 at 21½c, 41 at 22c, 26 at 22c; 34 Low Middlings to Middlings 22½c; 26 Middlings 22½c, 96 at 22½c, 11 at 22½c, 10 at 22½c, 4 at 22½c, 12 at 23c, 46 at 22c, 3 at 22c, 23 at 22½c, 15 at 22½c, 13 at 22½c, 23 at 22½c, 18 at 22½c, 2 at 22½c; 3 Strict Middlings at 23c, 3 at 23c, 9 at 23c, 6 at 23c, 15 at 23c, 2 at 23c, 15 at 23c; 4 Good Middlings at 24c. Prices were so irregular that our readers can form a better idea of prices from the sales given than we could give in any other way.

TRADE.

There was a marked improvement in trade to-day and our principal streets wore the appearance of stir and bustle unknown to them except on very rare occasions for months back. We still have a bare market in the way of plantation supplies, but especially in the line of meats. Very few of our merchants have faith in present prices being sustained and keep on hand simply enough to supply the jobbing trade. No lots of any size can be found and the few light shipments coming in are mostly on orders, or when received in the way of consignments are taken sparingly by those who are out or awaiting their own supplies from above. The damage to the sugar crop in Louisiana, though quite serious in some sections, has not been so disastrous as at first reported. The crop is now set down at 120,000 hogsheads, which is a vast increase over that of last year. A correspondent of the New Orleans Picayune, writing from the Parish of Plaquemine, one of the best sugar parishes of the State, says:

From every locality wherein the sugar cane is cultivated on this coast, the yield, both in quantity and quality, promises to be a fit ending to a glorious spring, summer and autumn. The atmospheric conditions of the last few days have checked vegetation and are hastening maturation. Last year grinding commenced here on the 2d of November; the probability is that some of our mills will, this season, be in full operation before the end of the month.

The first lot of sugar of last year's growth, manufactured in this parish, reached your market on the 6th of November; in 1866, on the 5th of November; in 1865, on the 10th of November; in 1864, on the 23d of November, and in 1863, on the 12th of November.

Last year the winter was so unusually mild that the sugar cane bloomed in some of our more favorable localities, which had not occurred here since 1852.

From the report of the Bureau of Agriculture from August and September, we learn the following:

A considerable reduction is noted in the number of fattening hogs, and also in their condition as to size and weight, as compared with the average of former years. This is especially true in the Southern States, Louisiana alone showing increased numbers. Of the Western States, only Missouri, Nebraska, Kansas and Minnesota report above or up to an average stock. Indiana reports 9 tenths; Illinois 8.5; Ohio 8.9; Wisconsin 9.5; Iowa 9.3; Michigan 9.7; Kentucky 9; West Virginia 9.1; New England States 9.5; Middle States 9.4.

RIVER MATTERS.

WEATHER AND RIVERS.

MEMPHIS, October 15.—We are having lovely weather—clear as a bell and warm enough to open cotton like pop corn on a hot griddle. The river here falls rapidly, and from all points above we hear of falling rivers. The stage of the Ohio will be found in our dispatches. White river is failing. The Arkansas is getting to a low stage, but is cutting out, and is in good condition, with 3½ feet to Little Rock.

Arrivals.

Steamer Nick Longworth, Louisville.
" Westmoreland, Cincinnati.
" W. A. Caldwell, Ark. river.

Departures.

Steamer Nick Longworth, New Orleans.
" Westmoreland, New Orleans.
" Caldwell, Arkansas river.
" Tempest, White river.
" Marble City, St. Louis.
" Darling, Cincinnati.

In Port.

Natoma, Sam Hale.

MISCELLANEOUS.

The Legal Tender is due up on Saturday.

The Caldwell came in yesterday from the Arkansas with 160 bales of cotton and a good passenger trip. She left again for Little Rock at a late hour last night.

The Darling got away for Cincinnati with 1300 bales of cotton.

The Nick Longworth passed down, as did also the Westmoreland.

The Hesper left for Little Rock yesterday, taking the guns of the Arkansas Loyal League. She loaded them during the moring and left before night. It is a feather in the cap of our citizens that they allowed these arms to depart in peace, but a fearful reckoning will be in store for those who are instrumental in arming the negroes against the whites, if those arms are used for that purpose. Capt. Houston will, no doubt, be remembered for his part in this affair and will not receive much patronage, we think, along the Arkansas.

The Julia, Capt. Lockhart, with Andy Isaacs in the office, will pass down this evening for Vicksburg and the bends, carrying the United States mail and making all way landings.

The fine steamer Rubicon passes up at noon to-day for Cairo and St. Louis. Capt. Bob Riley is master, and our popular young friend Alf. Grissom is in the office.

The Ozark is the regular Arkansas river packet for Monday next. Capt. Nowland is master.

Joe Holman, engineer of the Caldwell, was fined yesterday in the sum of $5 for whaling a deck hand.

The splendid U. S. mail packet Mayflower, Capt. Ashford, leaves to-morrow for all points on White river, connecting at Devall's Bluff with the Little Rock train. Charley Smithers is clerk.

A certain young man, who is known here and at Little Rock, and who obtained a sum of money from Billy Dardis under false pretenses, has one more chance to keep his name out of this paper. If he don't refund we shall certainly expose him.

The Sam Hale, Capt. Walker, leaves on Saturday for Cairo and Cincinnati. She has a full trip of cotton already engaged, we learn, but has some staterooms left.

The elegant Mary Forsyth, Capt. Ziegler, leaves on Saturday for Cairo and St. Louis. She is a fine passenger packet. Mr. White is clerk.

The Comet was purchased at New Albany on Monday last by Capt. Ed. Ford, for the sum of $5000. She goes to New Orleans.

Capt. Jas. Ross died on Thursday near Neville, Ohio, in the sixty-eighth year of his age. He was a pilot on the river forty years ago, and with his neighbor John McFall, was pilot on the Duke of Orleans in May, 1844, when she made the celebrated run from New Orleans to Cincinnati in five days and eighteen hours—the quickest trip on record.

The body of Mr. Howerton, of Little Rock, drowned at Madison, Ind., a few days ago, was recovered on Sunday last. A gold watch, $1400 in checks, and a large roll of currency were found upon his person.

Cairo don't want any Congressional excursion and has refused to appropriate the $1000 assessment made upon her.

A case of some importance to river men was decided in St. Louis on the 13th. The decision was rendered by Judge Miller, of the U. S Circuit Court. The charges against the steamer Bright Star were that she carried freight and passengers between the town of Washington, Mo., and towns on the opposite side of the river, and that she therefore was subject to the various laws of Congress requiring vessels impelled by steam to undergo periodical inspection, and to obtain a coasting license.

The defense was that the vessel is simply a ferryboat, and that the laws of Congress do not apply to vessels engaged exclusively in the internal commerce of the State as this one is, and this view was sustained by the court in an elaborate and able decision of considerable length.

A writer makes the following computation about wharfage. A first class steamboat, registered at 1100 tuns, pays on each round trip between St. Louis and New Orleans the following wharfage charges:

At St. Louis	$ 52 30
At Chester	2 00
At Cape Girardeau	7 00
At Memphis	60 00
At way landings	20 00
At New Orleans	70 00
At way landings on up trip	103 00
	$330 30

If this boat made twelve round trips a year, she would pay for the use of these landings and annual tax of $3969 60.

Capt. B. F. Beaseley has bought the stern-wheel steamer Will S. Hays, which has been laid up at Peoria, Ills., for nearly eighteen months. After being thoroughly repaired, the Hays will be placed in the Arkansas river trade.

The stern-wheeler Helena, has been sold at St. Louis, to Capt. C. H. Tyler, the price is reported at $6500.

Capt. Pepper has abandoned the idea of loading his huge steamer Thomas Dean on the present channel depth, and transferred to the Mississippi such freight as had been received. The Mississippi will leave St. Louis to-day.
